SCRAPPING OF P.G.E. CANNOT BE CONSIDERED

Directors Unanimous in Conviction That Railway Must Be Kept in Operation

Legislature to Approve All Big Expenditures on Line, Sutherland Explains

Any large capital expenditures on the Pacific Great Eastern Railway will have to be ratified by the Legislature after their approval by the newly-appointed board of directors, Hon. W. H. Sutherland, Minister of Railways, emphasized today when he was questioned about the board's views on the extension of the Government-owned line. He added that the idea of scrapping the railway could not be considered a point on which the directors are unanimous.

"While the directors have agreed to carry the line north to their city, no decision on this matter has been reached," the Minister explained. "In any case any project of that kind cannot be launched by the directors alone. It must be approved by the Legislature along with other capital expenditures."

EXPENSES AHEAD

British Columbia will face a heavy bill for renewal or replacement of ties along the line soon, the Minister stated. A number of ties are reaching the end of their usefulness, he explained, and must be rebuilt or replaced with gravel fills. The directors, he said, would soon decide whether the necessary expenditure would be made at once or spread over a period of two or three years. The board proposed to substitute gravel fills for ties in all cases possible, he added.

"Apart from the ties the line is in excellent physical condition he declared. The rolling stock also is in good shape and none of the directors could suggest any improvement in the present service."

The idea of scrapping the P.G.E., as advanced by Major R. J. Burde, M.P., for Alberta in a speech this week, would not be entertained by the directors for a moment, Dr. Sutherland stated, and he deplored rumors that the line may be abandoned hinder development of contiguous areas, he said. For some time people in the district had been afraid their railway service might be curtailed but a new feeling of confidence has developed of late, the Minister stated, and he deplored rumors which would alarm them and hold up development.

FRENCH FRANC TO-DAY AT NEW LOW LEVEL

Sinks to 40.58 to the Dollar; State Borrowings From Bank Increase

Paris, July 15.—The French franc, which has long been dropping, today reached a new low record, being officially quoted at the closing of the Bourse at 40.58 to the dollar. The franc's slump was attributed to the sudden realization by financiers that the last statement of the Bank of France showed there was only 500,000,000 francs left for advances to the state, unless the present legal limit should be broken.

The Bank of France's weekly statement showed the state had borrowed another 100,000,000 francs in addition to the 350,000,000 borrowed last week. In view of M. Caillaux's previous statement in the Chamber of Deputies, that the state was within 500,000,000 francs of the legal limit, the borrowing was a heavy blow to the franc.

At 11 a.m. to-day the franc was at 40.58 to the dollar, a slight improvement brought it to 39.58 at noon. In the afternoon it took another dive, standing at 40.4 at 2.30 p.m. By the time the closing had come it was at 40.58 to the dollar, a worth only 2.46 cents.

ENGLISH CHANNEL SWIMMER FAILED

Frank Perks of Birmingham Defeated by Choppy Sea and Fog

Dover, Eng., July 15.—The English Channel has turned back the first of its would-be conquerors this season in the person of Frank Perks, Birmingham swimmer.

Perks started from the French side at midnight under apparently favorable conditions. A heavy northeasterly wind sprang up, however, raising a choppy sea. For also added to the swimmer's difficulties and he was obliged to abandon the attempt after nine hours in the water.

RUMOR P. AUDET, QUEBEC, TO BE SOLICITOR-GENERAL OF CANADA

SWIMMER DIES AS RESULT OF DIVE

Arnold McAllister, With Back Broken, Succumbed Early To-day

Striking a submerged rock while diving at the Gorge yesterday afternoon, Arnold McAllister, seventeen-year-old son of William McAllister, 2442 Beechwood Avenue, suffered a broken back and succumbed to his injury early this morning at the Royal Jubilee Hospital.

Death was due to a fracture of the spine, according to Dr. J. P. Yve. A head wound was also present, he stated. After periods of consciousness during the night, McAllister passed away at 6.20 o'clock this morning.

"Arnold was well known in sporting circles of the city and news of his death will be very deeply regretted by his many friends. His untimely passing, just twelve hours after the misadventure which caused it, will come as a shock to those who witnessed the accident."

Connected with the death of the young sportsman is the tale of his rescue. No one actually saw him dive, it is understood, but a middle-aged gentleman whose name was not disclosed, noticed him with blood gushing from a three-inch scalp wound on his head. Diving into the water, he quickly brought the boy to the float near the bridge and enticed the aid of Constable A. Ackerman of the Esquimalt police force, who was passing at the time.

When dragged from the water, McAllister was fully conscious, and gave Constable Ackerman details of his home and his parents.

The place at which the accident happened has been a constant source of danger to swimmers. It was the intention of McAllister to dive from the railing of the wharf which runs under the bridge, and to swim under the bridge with the tide. A large rock, jutting out from the shore at the point where he dived, was the obstruction upon which he struck his head. The accident occurred at about 4.55 o'clock.

An inquest will be held, Coroner E. C. Hart stated to-day.

NEW FUND SOON FOR STRIKERS IN BRITAIN

Trades Union Congress Agrees to Raise Money For the Idle Coal Men

London, July 15.—The Trades Union Congress of Britain at a conference with the executive of the British Miners' Federation to-day agreed to give all possible assistance to the striking coal miners. The congress will raise funds to support the miners in their struggle against longer hours and reduced wages.

London, July 15.—The executive committee of the British Miners' Federation to-day announced a conference would be held with the British Trades Union Congress to discuss ways and means of bringing the coal miners' strike to a successful issue.

The conference was scheduled for late this afternoon.

Whether this will mean peace or a continuance of the strike was not clear.

A. J. Cook, secretary of the federation, stated the uncompromising position taken in the coal fields was the same as ever and that no conference of delegates had been called.

CONFERENCE HELD

Other quarters, however, were inclined to view the situation more optimistically than in the past, especially in view of recent conferences with neutral interests, such as last night's meeting with representatives of the Church of England. Premier Baldwin this morning conferred with several members of his cabinet upon some of the questions of the coal dispute.

One official expressed the opinion that events would move fairly quickly and that a settlement was not impossible before the month was out. The strike has been in progress since May 1.

Ottawa, July 15.—An unconfirmed rumor this morning is to the effect that Pierre Audet, K.C., of Quebec, may enter the Meighen Cabinet, probably as Solicitor-General.

Mr. Audet was Conservative candidate in Quebec East in the last general election, in opposition to Hon. Ernest Lapointe, then Minister of Justice.

ROBB CANDIDATE

Ottawa, July 15.—Hon. J. A. Robb, former Minister of Finance, will again be a candidate for election to the House of Commons in Chateauguay-Huntingdon, Quebec.

He said to-day he would accept nomination if asked to do so by the county Liberal executive.

ONTARIO CANDIDATES

Toronto, July 15.—While there was no official statement after the close of the meeting of the management committee of the Ontario Liberal Association here last night, it was said the decision to run a Liberal Party candidate in every Ontario riding in the forthcoming Federal general election had been unanimously reached.

B.C.'S PEACE RIVER BRIDGE CLAM PRESSED

Premier Oliver Tells Vancouver Kiwanians Province Expects Ottawa to Act

Vancouver, July 15.—Determination to have the land in the Peace River valley in British Columbia was affirmed by Premier Oliver in an address to members of the Vancouver Kiwanis Club in the Hotel Vancouver to-day.

"The more I think the subject over and the more I investigate the details of the original transaction and the more am I convinced that British Columbia has a legal as well as a moral claim to the Peace River Block within her boundaries," the Premier said.

"If a private corporation were in the same position as British Columbia I believe it would have a legal claim to the land."

But dealing with the Federal Government, I think, should be on the basis of moral right. And on that basis there can be no denial of the fact that British Columbia should have restored to her the whole of the Peace River railway grant lands acquired by the Federal Government under an agreement that was never really fulfilled.

"We should be able to get results in an amicable way without taking the case into the courts."

REPORT SUGGESTED

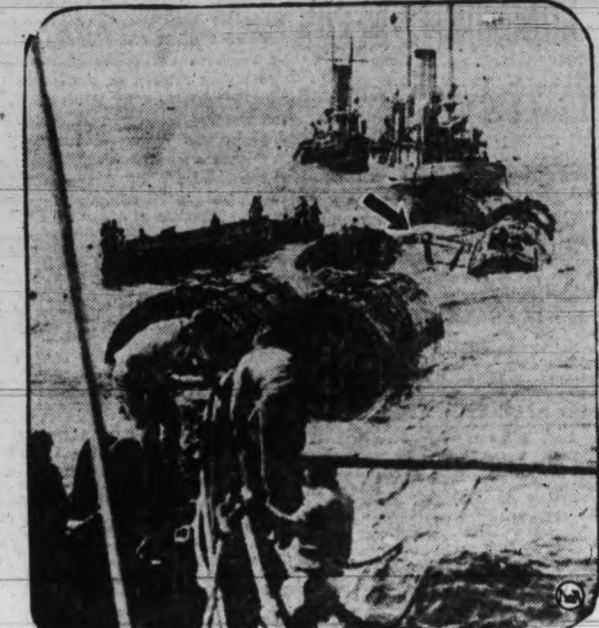

"What we asked from the late Government was that if it were not prepared to grant our request it should give us a parliamentary record, a royal commission to investigate and make a report on the subject. This the Government was prepared to do."

"We have since had a change in government, but I have no doubt that the new Minister of the Interior, pointing out the attitude of the preceding Government and asking for an investigation, would be on the same basis."

EARTH SHOCKS RECORDED HERE

An earthquake of a severe nature was recorded on the instruments at Gonzales Heights Observatory yesterday, commencing at 2.33 p.m. The record lasted for over an hour. The distance is estimated at 1,100 miles, the centre probably being in the vicinity of Alaska.

SUBMARINE SALVAGE SCENE

The United States submarine S-51, which was sunk off Block Island, R.I., in a collision with a steamship ten months ago, carrying all but three of her crew to their deaths, was raised last week by the Navy. The salvage corps after months of effort and one earlier, fruitless trial. The craft was towed to the Brooklyn navy yard, where it now lies. The picture above, the first of the event to reach Victoria, shows the S-51, swinging between heavy pontoons, being towed to the navy yard. The crumpled conning tower of the submarine, indicated by an arrow, can be seen between the forward pontoons. At the navy yard, when the hull was examined, the bodies of about a score of the victims were found. They were nearly all at the men's posts of duty.

ORDER PAYMENT OF CUSTOMS SALARIES

Orders to pay the salaries of Customs officials here to-day as usual were received from Ottawa this afternoon by Fred Harvey, Collector of Customs. A few days ago Mr. Duvey was ordered to hold up payment of the semi-monthly cheques due to his officials to-day.

DOZEN BUILDINGS IN STE. MARIE DE BEAUCO DESTROYED; MEN HAD HARD STRUGGLE

Quebec, July 15.—Destroying some dozen buildings at a loss of $300,000, fire raged through the village of Ste. Marie de Beauce, Beauce County, this morning and threatened the entire village. The flames broke out in the kitchen of the home of Thomas d'Alaire, merchant, and were not brought under control until this afternoon as a result of the combined efforts of the Ste. Marie fire brigade and detachments of firefighters sent from Quebec and Lévis.

Dr. Melady, dentist, had to be taken to hospital. A Quebec fireman treated for injuries to his eye received during the fire.

LIST OF LOSSES

The buildings burned were Thomas d'Alaire's store and residence, La Banque Canadienne, a five-story branch office; Avard and Nadeau's general store; Alphonse Blouin's barber shop and residence; when all the strikers were crossed from the payrolls, showed new signs of life to-day.

NEW YORK SUBWAY STRIKE SPREAD TO-DAY

New York, July 15.—The subway strike in New York, which the Interborough Rapid Transit Company announced Tuesday was ended as far as it was concerned, when all the strikers were crossed from the payrolls, showed new signs of life to-day.

Thousands From Norway Are To Settle In Canada

Vancouver, July 15.—Arne Kildal, general manager of the Norwegian Overseas League, was in Vancouver to-day planning an extensive tour of British Columbia, the prairie provinces and Eastern Canada with a view to studying the suitability of various sections of the country to receive immigrants from Norway.

As a result of his investigations, Mr. Kildal said he expected several thousand farm settlers to come to Canada within the next year.

He came to this province from Camrose, Alberta, where he assisted in the formation of the new Canadian Society for Norwegians.

Mr. Kildal will interview Federal Government officials in Ottawa for information in connection with the immigration plan.

The immigrants might be scattered, or in some cases colonies might be formed, he said, but in any case the settlers would become Canadian citizens.

RANGERS HALT BIG SOOKE FIRE AS IT NEARS WATERSHED

Fire Lines Now Encircle Conflagration; Barring Wind, Control is Assured

Pipe Line Runs in Places Through Surrounding Flames as Fire Leaps Across

Fire fighters who are battling to save the city's watershed succeeded to-day in circling the big Sooke forest fire with a broad fire line. If this holds the flames when they reach it, the fire will be kept out of the green timber around the Goldstream and Sooke watersheds. Forest rangers in charge declared to-day that the conflagration would be confined within its present limits unless a wind rose to whip it across the barriers which a large crew has laid in its path.

Forestry officials said to-day there was no cause for alarm over the safety of the Sooke Hotel as the fire is still three miles from that establishment and its progress has been halted in that direction.

PIPE NOT AFFECTED

Meanwhile the pipe line, in which the city's entire water supply is carried from Sooke Lake, is surrounded at several points by fire. The flames have leaped over the pipe without damaging it and now are burning on either side in some places. As the timber is cleared away for a considerable distance around the pipe the heat has not become serious enough to affect the cement flow line.

Forestry officials here hoped to-day for a break in the weather, following the dullness of this morning. Showers may fall during the next twenty-four hours, according to officials of Gonzales Observatory, and meanwhile the high humidity and absence of wind has aided fire fighters greatly. To-day, in fact, offers the only good fire fighting weather since the present serious outbreak started.

BURNS CAUSED DEATH

Vancouver, July 15.—Burns sustained when his clothing became caught from an stove in his cabin at Millbrook Cove, nearly 400 miles north of here, resulted in the death of John Wilkerson, fifty, in the hospital here to-day.

OCTOBER 5 DATE OF EMPIRE CONFERENCE

British Prime Minister Says It is Hoped to Start Sessions Then

London, July 15.—Premier Baldwin told the House of Commons to-day, October 5 was the proposed date of the forthcoming Imperial Conference.

Questions regarding the subjects to be discussed at the conference, he said, had been agreed on by the conference, and the date of the conference would be the policy of defense and the questions arising from it. The conference also would consider the development of systems of communications and solicitations from the governments of the Empire on matters of common concern.

COMMISSION REPORTS

1.—Overseas settlement.
2.—A general review of international trade, present and future, including a discussion of the work of the Imperial Economic Committee and the position of the Empire Marketing Board.
3.—Empire commissions, including the work of the Imperial Shipping Committee and discussion of the work of the Imperial Air Services.
4.—Research.
5.—Exhibition within the Empire of Empire-produced motion picture films.

6.—The question of securing an agreement regarding the liability of state enterprises to taxation.
Dr. L. Haden Guest, Labor member, asked whether there would be an opportunity for the representation of "opposition" opinion as well as government opinion at the conference, in view of the circumstances in South Africa, Canada and this country.

Premier Baldwin replied that the only difficulty regarding opposition representation was that the Imperial Conferences had always been conferences of governments, and that the representation of the opposition, either in the Dominions or in the country convening the conference, was a question put by E. Thurkel, Labor.

MIGRATION DISCUSSION

Dr. Guest asked, in regard to "overseas settlement," whether there would be any investigation into the land areas available in the different Dominions in connection with that important question.

The Premier said he was unable to answer that, and suggested the question be asked of the Secretary for the Dominions, Rt. Hon. L. C. Amery.

SIXTY BANKS IN GEORGIA CLOSE DOORS TO PUBLIC

Bankruptcy Proceedings Against Bankers' Trust Company, Operating Concern for 120 Banks in State; Government Officials Say Closings Do Not Indicate General Unsoundness of Banks Throughout Georgia

Atlanta, July 15.—Fifteen more Georgia banks closed their doors to-day, following in the wake of forty-nine others which had closed their doors this week after the bankruptcy proceedings against the Bankers' Trust Company. The State Bank Department announced the closing of the institutions.

Atlanta, Ga., July 15.—The Georgia State Banking Department to-day continued its investigation into the affairs of more than sixty financial institutions which had closed their doors since Monday.

At the same time the federal court heard a petition for bankruptcy proceedings against the Bankers' Trust Company, operating company for 120 state banks, for which a temporary receivership was named in county court here yesterday.

The embarrassment of the Bankers' Trust Company was blamed by the banking department for the majority of the closings this week.

The department emphasized that the closings were not due to local conditions, and did not indicate any unsoundness or lack of ability of banks in the state.

Commenting on the affairs of the Bankers' Trust Company, for which a receivership was asked by the Bank of Unatilla, Florida, the department declared it had been, at the time of the failure of several banks in Florida with which the corporation was connected, rendering it unable to finance the Georgia banks for which it acted as finance agent.

C.N.R. RATE VIEW CAUSES OPPOSITION

Counsel Says B.C. Reductions Might Add to Canadian People's Burden

Vancouver, July 15.—If by reason of reduced freight rates in British Columbia the revenues of the Canadian National Railway were reduced, it would add to the burden of the people of Canada as a whole, was a statement made by Alistair Fraser, general counsel for the C.N.R., at the morning session of the Railway Commission here to-day.

This pronouncement, which G. G. McGeer, K.C., counsel for British Columbia, declared to be "a most extraordinary one," was met with instant opposition. Mr. McGeer said the directors were largely occupied with discussions of rates and expressions of opinions respecting the inclusion of freight tariffs.

Bond Required of Mrs. P. Anderson in Vancouver to Attend Court

Vancouver, July 15.—Failed in an alleged attempt to return to her native Italy by way of the United States, Mrs. Emma Anderson, to-day was at liberty here on a $5,000 bond after being arrested by a sheriff's officer yesterday on a writ of capias obtained by her Swedish husband, Peter Anderson, in an effort to collect his $5,250 judgment against her.

Mrs. Anderson was taken into custody as she was about to board a train for Seattle yesterday after her husband had stated she was fleeing with a considerable portion of the profits made at a shooting gallery which she owned here. He obtained the writ on the ground that she intended to leave the country and thereby evade payment of the judgment he had secured against her.

ATTEMPT TO SINK STEAMER WAS FOILED

San Francisco, July 15—Patrick Murray and Frank Ruben, seamen, are held in the city prison here as a result of their alleged attempt to sink the freighter Seekonk as the ship lay in the harbor early to-day.

They were discovered in the engine room of the ship with a bit of tools, busily engaged in opening a safety valve leading from below the waterline. Ship's officers say disagreement over wages due Murray precipitated the attempt.

The Seekonk is owned by the Sudden & Christensen Lumber Company and arrived here recently from Shanghai with general cargo.

MAGAZINES SAVED

Dover, N.J., July 15—The courage of 100 picked marines under Captain A. T. Lewis yesterday averted another possible wave of explosions at the navy's devastated arsenal at Lake Denmark, N.J. When fire was discovered in a wrecked storehouse in the northern section of the arsenal waste lands, near buildings filled with high explosives, the marines rushed in and ran a line of hose from a small lake a quarter mile away. Surrounded by tons of explosives, the men succeeded in extinguishing the flames before they could spread.

FIRE ADVANCES AS MEN COMBAT IT

So Far Forest Blaze in South-eastern B.C. Has Not Been Controlled

Has Been Burning Eight Days; Gangs at Times Risk Lives

Calgary, July 15—Every available forest ranger, section crews and volunteers have joined in the herculean task of fighting the forest fire which has been raging along the Banff-Windermere road for the past eight days.

According to a Calgary Herald staff correspondent, the fire-fighters are engaged in a retreating battle, contesting every mile of territory and fighting at times for their own lives. Latest reports indicate the flames are now threatening a fine stand of timber that covers the banks of Wardle Creek and are within striking distance of Vermilion Crossing. Residents in the area are preparing for a hurried departure.

While all conditions so far have been against the fire-fighters, they have emerged from the struggle to date without serious casualties. Several of the men, however, have suffered minor injuries from falling timbers and flying embers.

WINDS CHANGE

Shifting winds have proved a great handicap to the fighters. The flames have jumped many times in one place bridging a gap three miles. A huge slide is reported to have torn the timber of Wardle Mountain at one point, and it is hoped the fire-fighters will be able to back-fire and avert a serious spread to a stretch of valuable big timber.

LINE ARE MADE

Vancouver, July 15—Lines have been constructed on the southern, eastern and western boundaries of the fire, nine by two miles in extent, which has spread from Lewis Lake, about twenty miles inland from Stillwater, north to Goat River and the confines of Powell Lake.

Last night the fire was burning on a ridge bordering Powell Lake.

From Haslam to Dodd Lake loggers and rangers have dug a trench to prevent the fire from creeping through the dry undergrowth.

PEOPLE ESCAPED

Refugees from Camp 4 of the Brooks-Seaton-O'Brien Company, which was wiped out on Monday afternoon, say nearly 100 men were caught between the main fire at Lewis Lake and the camp. They fled towards Haslam Lake and many remained throughout the night in Frog Lake Swamp. About a dozen women and a larger number of children escaped from the camp with no more than the clothes they stood up in. Hurrying along the logging railway right-of-way, they were picked up by a train and taken to Stillwater, where they have been given lodging by residents of that community.

One of the strangest sights of the disaster was the escape of a man from a burning cabin with his trousers on fire.

RAIN AIDS FIGHTERS

Vernon, B.C., July 15—Rain which fell to-day will be of great assistance in fighting the forest fires which have been raging in the Silver Star district and in the Cherry Creek country. Cooler weather will also help the fire-fighters, who have been recruited here during the past couple of days.

THREE INDIAN BOYS DROWNED IN INLET

Their Boat Capsized in Heavy Seas in Jervis Arm; Two Boys Were Saved

Vancouver, July 15—Three Indian boys from North Vancouver and Point Grey were drowned last week in Jervis Inlet when a small row-boat in which they were crossing from a cannery to a sawmill for the purpose of picking berries capsized in a heavy sea.

The lads were Henry Guerrero, aged sixteen, North Vancouver; Alphonse Johnny, aged fifteen, Point Grey; and Dave Moody, aged fourteen, North Vancouver.

Henry Guerrero's fourteen-year-old brother, Manuel, and Willie Sanderson of North Vancouver were saved. The boys, who were employed at the Rivers Inlet Cannery for the fishing season, borrowed the boat from the Indian missionary. Encountering a strong westerly wind and heavy seas, the craft filled and the five boys jumped into the water in the hope of swimming to shore.

Attracted by the shouting, Bobby Beans, an Indian, who had been skinning a wolf, jumped into his boat and rowed towards the boys, but three disappeared before he could reach them, one made shore, and the other was picked up by Beans as he was going under.

Tracing operations to recover the bodies have been conducted by relatives and friends of the deceased, but so far without success.

B.C.-Washington Border Fire is Fought by Gangs

Nelson, July 15—The Pend d'Oreille forest fire crossed into Washington after destroying the mill and other buildings of the Red Bird Mine near Waneta. A United States force is now aiding the 100 British Columbia fire-fighters.

No control has yet been effected of the fire in the middle of the Salmo Valley, between Salmo and Erie. It is now within two miles of the Great Northern Railroad tracks.

The largest fire on the Arrow Lakes is beside Sugar Lake, which is being fought both from the Arrow and Shuswap sides.

Seattle Scene of A Tong Murder

Seattle, July 15—After a month's war of tongs in the Pacific Northwest, three gunmen slew Charlie Sing, twenty-five years old, in a street gun battle here to-day. Sing was listed a member of the Hip Sing and Hop Sing tongs.

Sing was walking along the street when an automobile drove up beside him. When Sing drew a pistol, two men fired from the car, but fell mortally wounded as he tried to jump behind a perch. The slayers escaped.

VOTE ON BEER IN VANCOUVER DEBATED

Vancouver, July 15—Plans for a beer plebiscite in Vancouver to-day will be discussed at a meeting Friday night of executives of the provincial and city prohibition associations.

"We are assured on all sides," said the organizer, "that we could vote out the beer parlors to-morrow if we had the opportunity."

NEW RECORD IS SET UP BY COW

New York, July 15—A new world record for milk and butter fat by a four-year-old Jersey cow was claimed to-day for Pretoria, Oxford, Janet, owned by Foster Whitaker, seventeen-year-old British Columbia high school student.

In a 305-day test supervised by the Federal Department of Agriculture the cow produced 14,935.2 pounds of milk and 872 pounds of butter fat, which L. W. Morley of the American Jersey Cattle Club declares is a record for that breed.

NEW MOVES TO STRENGTHEN POSITION OF BELGIAN FRANC

Brussels, July 15—The Socialist Party of the Chamber of Deputies, at a caucus yesterday voted 46 to 10, with four absentees, in favor of the bill giving the King-in-Council full powers to legislate by decree measures necessary to save the Belgian franc. This insures the passage of the bill.

Confidence appears in a fair way to being restored, and the nervousness and panicky feelings of the past few days are disappearing. A permanent committee has been established to tighten control over the exchange market.

THREE NEW YORK SUBWAY STRIKERS RETURN TO WORK

New York, July 15—The wages of sixty-two leaders of the striking employees of the Interborough Rapid Transit Company have been impounded.

The subway company has brought suit against the leaders for $239,000 damages and the action yesterday was taken as partial security for any judgment obtained, according to James L. Quackenbush, the company's general counsel. The amount involved was said to be $2,500.

The company reported to-day that three of the striking motormen had returned to work and been put back on the payroll at the foot of the list. Train service on the underground roads was steadily improving, the company asserted.

The strikers continued to maintain their optimism and declared the desertions from their ranks were of no consequence.

THE "SHADOWS" SUCCESSOR

THERE IS ABUNDANT EVIDENCE that Mr. Meighen has made a number of mental reservations in the selection and arrangement of his Cabinet. It is also clear that there was plenty of wire-pulling; and that important influences were operating behind the scenes, probably in the councils of the Board of Strategy. The appointment of Hon. R. B. Bennett to the important post of Minister of Finance, instead of Sir Henry Drayton, who has no portfolio, is very significant. Sir Henry Drayton was Minister of Finance in both the Borden and Meighen Ministries before the change of government in 1921. In opposition he has been the chief financial critic for the Conservative forces. During Mr. Meighen's recent illness he acted as leader of the Opposition. His omission from the list of departmental heads therefore is regarded by the press of both parties as a surprise of the first magnitude. In some quarters it is suggested that he will be Canada's first Minister to Washington.

Scarcely less astonishing is the appointment of the Hon. R. B. Bennett to the Department of Finance. Mr. Bennett is a lawyer of exceptional ability, who was believed by many to be slated for the post of Minister of Justice. He is from Calgary and it may be that his appointment as Minister of Finance is a move to placate the West. The head of the Finance Department is supposed to be largely responsible for the fiscal policy of the Government. Mr. Bennett fills another role in the eyes of some political observers, and that is the prospective leadership of the Conservative Party. If Mr. Meighen shall fail to carry the country this time, his head will go, and there are powerful elements within the party who would like to see Mr. Bennett chosen in his place. The relations between Mr. Meighen and Mr. Bennett have not always been harmonious. The Calgary member's fierce attack upon the present Premier when the latter was piloting through the House the bill which gave $10,000,000 to Mackenzie and Mann for interests declared by a Royal Commission to be worthless, is fresh in the memories of most followers of the proceedings of Parliament.

Hon. E. L. Patenaude, leader of the Federal Conservatives in Quebec, is the new Minister of Justice. In the last election Mr. Patenaude declared that he was "as free of Meighen as he was of King," and to gain his support Meighen issued his extraordinary war-time election policy at Hamilton—amounting to almost a declaration of independence of British connection in certain circumstances—which Conservatives in British Columbia, although meekly accepting it, do not like to discuss. Recently there was a reconciliation between Mr. Meighen and Mr. Patenaude in Montreal, one of the terms of which apparently was a repetition of this policy by the Conservative leader. Another condition may have been an assurance of Mr. Patenaude's appointment to the Department of Justice in the event of the Conservatives getting into office, which may account for the relegation of Mr. Bennett to the Department of Finance and Sir Henry Drayton to the cold bleachers.

Hon. S. F. Tolmie for the time being has resumed his portfolio of the Department of Agriculture, his strongest competitor, Mr. Donald Sutherland, being given the cold consolation of membership in the Cabinet without a department. There can be no doubt that Mr. Sutherland has been promised something better if the wheel should turn the right way. Finally there are still several portfolios to be filled, notably those of Marine and Fisheries, Interior and Soldiers Civil Re-establishment, three of the most important posts in the Ministry. It is said that some of these will be given to Quebec, but a Western man should have the Department of the Interior. It is patent enough that the "shadow Cabinet" has been succeeded by a Cabinet a long way from being complete.

A T-B. BY-LAW

VANCOUVER TAXPAYERS ARE VOTING to-day on a by-law which is intended to provide for the expenditure of $50,000 to increase the city's capacity to deal with tuberculosis. The Vancouver Daily Province strongly advocates its approval and recalls the magnificent fight against the disease which the city of Toronto is putting up.

Our contemporary is on sound ground in its advocacy of additional facility to deal with tuberculosis. Too much has been left to chance in the past. There are less than 400 beds available for the T-B. patient in this Province and yet there are something like 4,000 people suffering from the disease. Many of these patch themselves up as well as they can. Some finally take the necessary rest and treatment and recover; but hundreds find themselves in the advanced and hopeless stages before they have had an opportunity to get institutional care. Small wonder that British Columbia loses about 400 citizens a year from this cause.

One of these days the Legislature will give this question as much thought and time as it does to beer and political clap-trap. It would be making an excellent investment for the Province by providing a reasonable sum each year to give the tuberculous a really fighting chance. At present many of them have little hope.

THE CIVIL SERVANT PAYS

ONE OF THE EARLY AND BY NO means the least serious effects of Mr. Meighen's hurry to dissolve Parliament without waiting to complete the business of the session and obtain supply is the extremely aggravating delay in the payment of Dominion Civil Service salaries. The order has gone out from Ottawa to the effect that the semi-monthly cheques which Federal employees would receive in the ordinary way on the fifteenth of the month are to be withheld.

This delay may not be more than a temporary one; but it will be apparent to most people that the civil servant, like other wage earners, arranges his domestic budgeting to coincide with the arrival of his salary. In many cases, this month, however, he will have to put off the usual adjustment of his affairs and get along as best he can until Mr. Meighen obtains the money to pay his wages.

All this could have been avoided, of course, if the present Prime Minister had done what Mr. Mackenzie King would have done if he had been given a dissolution—if he had finished the business of the session, prorogued the House, and then dissolved it. But Mr. Meighen had no love for much of the legislation waiting the Governor-General's signature, so he ran away from it. The civil servant is paying for his unpardonable haste and bad judgment.

ISLAND MAIL SERVICE

THE GENERAL PUBLIC WILL welcome the announcement which The Times made yesterday that the pressure which the Chamber of Commerce and local businessmen brought to bear on the authorities at Ottawa has resulted in the restoration of the mail service on the Esquimalt and Nanaimo afternoon train which was suspended last Monday.

It is easy to understand the disadvantage the Island would have suffered if this service had been abandoned. So far it has caused a considerable inconvenience to those who depended upon it. It is satisfactory to know, however, that the protests which were showered upon Ottawa have had the necessary effect. In this connection the Chamber of Commerce is entitled to congratulations.

THE AUTO INVASION

MORE THAN FIVE THOUSAND MOTOR cars entered British Columbia from the United States over last week end. This is considered a record for any similar period and is taken to indicate the volume of the movement which may be expected during the season which is now in full swing.

The value of such an influx of cars is not difficult to understand. Practically every vehicle would be carrying from three to six persons and the spending capacity of each load would be something like twenty dollars a day at the least. Here is money deposited in this Province for which practically no outlay has had to be made.

It is in such a definite proof of the automobile movement that the dividends which tourist travel pays are convincingly reflected. All this goes to show that, considering the small amount of capital spent in advertising the attractions of this Province, this industry is among our most profitable.

It is significant that some Conservative newspapers are trying to dig up precedents on the constitutional issue from colonial times in Canada. The crown colony mind is hard in this Dominion, much harder than in Australia, for example, where it almost has ceased to exist.

The opening speeches of the leaders of the two major political parties will be awaited with interest. People out here would like to learn from Mr. Meighen how he proposes to work out that war-time election policy of his party without making a declaration of independence out of it.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

SPEAKING FOR THE INTERIOR

From The Cranbrook Herald
Hon. R. B. Bruce, Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia, has lived long enough in the Interior to be able to speak authoritatively for it. A man who has some idea of the resources and activities of the Interior appreciates just what the more prosperous centres of the province can expect in the way of logical development, and is in a better position to judge of the general progress of things than a city magnate who seldom stirs beyond the place to acquaint himself with what is going on in other parts of the province. Thus it is that Mr. Bruce's words seem to have added weight when he tells a Vancouver audience that "while you are developing your port and shipping, it is to the Interior you must look to keep busy. The more you develop the Interior, the bigger will your shipping become."

This is the sensible gospel of the Interior, and for this admirable doctrine, there could be no better exponent than Hon. Mr. Bruce.

"LOCK, STOCK AND BARREL"

"LOCK, STOCK AND BARREL"

"Lock, stock and barrel" is a sportsman's phrase meaning "the whole thing" in allusion to the three parts of a gun. In the modern sense it is often used to denote the complete and utter defeat of an adversary, or the complete and utter triumph of one entirely outwitted in his scheming.

GOVERNORS-GENERAL

To the Editor.—It is daily becoming more evident that the Dominion election to be held September next will be a very bitter political fight. The party will endeavor to make the most important issue of the campaign the constitutional question involved in the Governor-General refusing to grant a dissolution to the Premier's solution of Parliament to the Premier's defeat in Parliament. The other party will minimize the importance of this issue, and will stress the importance of the discreditable wrong doing disclosed in the Customs Department.

To the ordinary Canadian citizen not engaged in politics, the election is one of the greatest importance and will probably arouse greater interest and deeper feelings than any election held since 1911.

The smuggling crookedness is a purely domestic issue, and will be of little interest outside of Canada. But not so the larger constitutional question. This question is of equal interest to the Mother Country, and is already being discussed in every part of the Empire that enjoys Parliamentary government. The occasion for a widespread and serious discussion all over the Empire of any constitutional question will naturally have a disturbing effect on Imperial relations. This will be particularly true in Canada, South Africa and Ireland, because all the people of these Dominions are not of Anglo-Saxon origin. Some Irish statesmen have already said that the British Government will be tolerated as Governors of Ireland in the future, and the Sons of Canada have "resolved" that none but Canadians should be Governors of Canada.

It is not my wish or intention to engage in a newspaper controversy, but I would suggest that if, in the future, the Governor-General of the United Kingdom were to be selected from the other self-governing Dominions that this system would make a recurrence of the present situation impossible, and would lead to better understanding, greater sympathy and closer co-operation, between the several Dominions, and thereby strengthen the Imperial ties between the Mother Land and all parts of the Empire.

Since Confederation some very eminent men have filled the office of Governor-General of Canada, and none have been better received or grown more in popularity than Baron Byng, the present incumbent of Rideau Hall.

It is no disparagement to these able men to say that Sir R. L. Borden of Canada and General Smuts of South Africa are as well versed in constitutional practices and parliamentary procedure as any of their kind, and no doubt each of the self-governing Dominions has as capable men as the two mentioned.

I make this suggestion, believing that a public discussion of this question by the Canadian press at the present time would be more interesting and instructive to the Canadian people than the criticism and reprimand we are likely to hear from the politicians during the coming election.

REFUGEES CAUSE OF RUSSIAN PROTEST

Moscow, July 15.—George Tchitcherin, Soviet Foreign Minister, has sent a strongly worded note of protest to the Bulgarian Government against alleged tolerance by the latter of the repatriation of Russian refugees whose passports have not been used by Russian authorities.

This repatriation, according to the Soviet protest, is made under circumstances which frequently involve the deaths by drowning of those being repatriated.

The protest says Russia holds Bulgaria responsible for measures it will be compelled to take against the persons repatriated as well as against the officers of the vessels engaged in smuggling them into Russia.

The Soviet official contends that among those allegedly smuggled into Russia are active opponents of the Russian Government.

AN ISSUE FOR CANADIANS

(Manitoba Free Press)

Now that it has been raised, the constitutional issue will have to be fought out in the coming general elections. Those who imagine that the Governor-General's action should not be reviewed by the people of Canada, are "trying to blind themselves to the facts of the situation. It has been announced that the action of Baron Byng will be a matter for consideration at the next Imperial Conference. Prof. Arthur Berriedale Keith of Edinburgh, the noted constitutional authority, writes in the Manchester Guardian that "the matter is one far transcending Canadian politics" because it affects the status of the Irish Free State. In view of the import of the Governor's decision to the other Dominions and to the British peoples themselves it is folly to hold to the opinion that the matter is not one of vital concern to the people of Canada. The Manchester Guardian pointed out this week that if the United Kingdom and the Dominion of Ireland have an equality of status then the precedents in relation to the King that hold in one should hold in another, and that when Baron Byng created a precedent in Canada by refusing to take the advice of his prime minister that precedent will have to be taken into consideration in the relations of the King to the Prime Minister of Great Britain. Thus the people of the United Kingdom have, too, a vital concern in the precedents established in Canada.

The views of Prof. Keith published in the Manchester Guardian and which appear elsewhere on this page, as reported by the Canadian Press, confirm the opinion that Baron Byng, in refusing to take the advice of his ministers, has departed from a practice followed by the Sovereign in Britain since 1784. Prof. Keith states that in refusing his prime minister a dissolution Baron Byng has challenged the effect of the doctrine of "equality in status of the Dominions and the United Kingdom," and has relegated Canada decisively to the colonial status which we have believed she had outgrown.

There we have the pith of the situation. The Canadian people have been challenged on the point of whether a subject of the King in Canada has equality with a subject of the King living in England, Scotland and Wales. For more than a hundred years the King's subjects living in England, Scotland and Wales have held that the King shall act only on the advice of his ministers. Baron Byng's action set up something directly opposite to this: that in Canada the King's deputy is responsible to no one but himself.

That is the issue before the Canadian people and it should be debated and decided coolly and impartially and without reflection on the good intentions of the persons who have been challenged. Baron Byng is not under consideration; Baron Byng is not being attacked. What is under review and not to be discussed is the effect of his decision on Canada's position as a nation and as an equal partner in the British Commonwealth. His action, in view of the

AMALGAMATION IS FARMER UNIONS' PLAN

Saskatoon, July 15.—Selection of the local association of the new association to succeed the Farmers' Union and the Saskatchewan Grain Growers' Association, if amalgamation is agreed upon, will be determined by the first board of directors after incorporation. If the decision of the Grain Growers' convention here yesterday is accepted by the Farmers' Union.

In the draft by-laws presented to the meeting there was a blank clause which left the matter for decision by a vote of the meeting. The printed draft, it was explained by G. H. Barr, K.C., the association's counsel, was not as it had been prepared in the original draft, which provided for the head office being selected as was later decided upon.

It was further pointed out that it would be a highly improper thing to bring such a question before the present convention and that it should be dealt with by the new organization itself.

FAMOUS COWBOY IS VISITOR IN CITY

Captain George Ash, world-famous cowboy, ranger and soldier who has fought bandits in China, India, Malay Straits and Santa Domingo and whose dexterity with the lasso and rifle have led him to give exhibitions single-handed. His scheme failed and he was captured later by no other than Francisco Villa, the late notorious bandit. He was forced to accompany this man on many of his raids. In India he saved a load of silver for the Calcutta mint from a mob of rioters. In a book of his life written by himself is told all these thrilling escapades.

Born in Calgary, Capt. Ash was trained from his earliest years to the cowboy life. At an early age he became dexterous in the use of the rifle and lasso.

During the world war the trail led him to Santa Domingo, where he served with the intelligence department of the U.S. marines.

At the conclusion of the war his footprints wandered farther afield. In England he gave numerous displays before soldiers there. To Egypt, India the Malay Straits and even to China, he went, saving in police duty, displaying his cowboy skill and routing out many a man wanted by the law. During his travels, Capt. Ash has been shot fourteen times having been wounded in nearly every part of his body.

Captain Ash will appear at the Columbia Theatre.

Special arrangements are being made to see that the kiddies have wonderful time. Tallyhoes will start at 10 o'clock, and an interment, returning in relays at night. It is expected members of the inside and outside civic services with their friends will attend in large numbers, and arrangements are being made for 500 people. EXPERT'S STUDY IN EUROPE AIDS B.C. IN FOREST POLICY

Caverhill Back With Report on European Methods of Timber Conservation

Application of Older Countries' Practices Chiefly Economic Question

Investigations conducted by P. Z. Caverhill, Provincial Chief Forester, in all the timber-producing countries of Europe, will have an important bearing on the future forest policies of British Columbia. Mr. Caverhill returned to his office at the Parliament Buildings here yesterday afternoon after three months spent in study of European forestry methods. He will make a full report on his observations to Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, so that the Government may have the benefit of this information in shaping laws for the conservation and exploitation of the Province's timber wealth.

"Whether European methods of forest conservation can be successfully introduced here is a matter not so much of a technical or scientific character as one of economics," Mr. Caverhill said to-day. "Forestry methods must be shaped, of course, according to economic conditions, and our position here is far removed from that of the older European countries. The possibility of improving our methods here along European lines must be made the subject of a great deal of consideration."

Mr. Caverhill explained that forestry methods which he examined in Europe were different to those prevailing here. Cheap labor, for one thing, enables European timber operators to sell their product at lower prices than is possible here and waste of timber is cut down to a minimum.

Europe is abandoning attempts to restrict the export of timber, and Mr. Caverhill found that it is relying on natural growth as does British Columbia. This is aided by the re-planting of trees, which is a condition due to extensive pastures of forest areas for the most part. With large populations European countries can afford to spend heavily on the protection of their forests, he pointed out.

Before commencing a tour which will take him to Rome, Mr. Caverhill attended the world forestry conference at Rome, where experts from forty timbered countries assembled to discuss methods of forest conservation and protection. This exchange of views, he said, would be invaluable to forest experts.

PRAIRIE LIQUOR CZAR HERE

Dr. W. W. Amos, Saskatchewan's liquor czar, is in Victoria on a holiday at the Glenhurst Inn.

Saskatchewan's British Columbia in introducing a system of government liquor control. The Saskatchewan law was brought into effect in April, 1925, and is similar to the British Columbia law except in one way, and that is Saskatchewan is the land of no beer parlors.

LAND OF NO BEER PARLORS

"We have no beer parlors in Saskatchewan, but in their place we have government stores for the exclusive sale of bottles of beer, especially in small communities," Dr. Amos said.

"So far our liquor act is working out well and there is no agitation for change, except on the part of interested parties."

Although the beer parlor issue is not a live one in Saskatchewan, Dr. Amos said he would take a professional interest in examining the operation of the beer parlors in Vancouver and Esquimalt.

With a car, he is starting out on a tour up the coast for about two weeks. Dr. Amos, before taking over control of the liquor business, was provincial secretary of Saskatchewan for eight or nine years.

PICNIC PARTY AT ELK LAKE PLANNED FOR CURLEW'S CREW

Mayor Penderay Invited Service Clubs to Aid Entertainment Cruiser's Personnel

Entertainment of the officers and men of H.M.S. Curlew by the service clubs of Victoria, when the warship returns to the city at the end of August, on being suggested by Mayor Penderay to-day, met with the unanimous approval of Rotarians attending to-day's luncheon at the Empress Hotel. The proposal at present under consideration include a picnic and sports at Elk Lake.

The first commercial strawberry sale in the Victoria district was credited to A. J. Woodward by his son, a Rotarian Edmund Woodward, when giving a brief resume of his career. The two-acre plot in the district found its inception following the collapse of the 1888 boom.

Rotarian Thomas McConnell resumed his summary of the proceedings of the Denver Convention of Rotary International, the sold of Belgian opposition to extension of Rotary to Germany, among other interesting matters brought before the convention.

"In Europe all eyes are on Rotary," he reported.

The Rotary Club will hold an evening party on July 28 at the country residence of Rotarian H. J. Penderay on Esquimalt Lagoon. Sports, dancing, swimming and fishing will feature the gathering.

AUSTIN OPENS BIG REALTY CAMPAIGN

"Writing on the Wall," He Says. Pointing to Upward Trend Here

Much Victoria Property to Double in Value in Next Year, He Predicts

Fortified with even greater optimism than last year and armed with correspondence from American clients seeking information regarding the auction, Charles S. Austin, to-day launched his local selling campaign in preparation for July 29 when 172 pieces of city property will go on the block.

"The most obvious thing in the world is that conditions in Victoria have changed and this city is now well on the upward trend," Mr. Austin said.

"Bank clearings are, and have been for some time, increasing at the rate of a million a month; real estate sales are also mounting regularly month by month; outside money is starting to come in."

"The writing is on the wall. This thing in Victoria is just beginning to go. People are beginning to realize that the predictions I made here last year are coming true. They are just beginning to awaken to the opportunities here."

Mr. Austin said that for the next couple of weeks he will be busy hammering home the truths regarding Victoria real estate as an investment.

"This year," said Mr. Austin, "it will be easy as we have so much concrete evidence to substantiate last year's claims. Last year it was a matter of restoring local confidence and creating a market, but this year the market is here, as scarcely a day passes without a volume of real estate sales being recorded. In actual fact the month of March exceeded all previous records for ten years. The month of April exceeded March sales by 30 per cent, and last month all previous records were passed by 50 per cent. One office alone reported sales aggregating $176,000, while the city has been doing a regular land office business selling principally to American investors."

"The movement that I forecast and predicted a year ago has just commenced. It is very gratifying to me to see my claims of a year ago substantiated, and I now go on record as saying that one year hence double the business and residential property will in many cases be worth, and will sell at double its value of to-day, and my prediction will be on the fact that since Americans have begun to realize the tremendous opportunities Victoria affords investors nothing can stop the upward swing and a steady increase in prices of realty for many years to come."

"My only hope is that at the auction on July 29 which affords the last and only opportunity to buy this property from the city, that the local people will awaken to the opportunity and not allow residential property to run away with all of the plums."

"Victorians have had the hardships to bear in the past and should be the ones to reap the benefits of the future, and while, of course, outside capital is good for any city and I intend to bring in a lot of outside capital, I still nevertheless hope that the local people will get in on this opportunity and share in the profits that will be made."

Other prairie people here are Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Johnson of Calgary, Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Pelletier of Winnipeg, Mr. and Mrs. R. King of Calgary, Mr. and Mrs. T. Thorvaldson of Saskatoon, who are at the Empress Hotel; Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Whelan of Nanton, Alta., Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Walker and family of Edmonton, Miss J. Fish of Medicine Hat and Miss Dorothy Hughes of Calgary, who are at the Hotel Strathcona.

MAINLANDERS HERE

Alex. D. Paterson, M.P.P. for Delta, arrived from Ladner this morning on some public business. Other mainlanders here to-day are John Coughlan, the shipbuilder, J. MacInnes, Mrs. MacKay, who has Roy and Roy MacKay, who are at the Empress Hotel; a party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. John Paton, Miss Paton and J. S. Paton, Mrs. B. Reid and daughter, Col. L. Hirston, who are at the Hotel Strathcona.

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Challoner are also here from Kelowna, and are at the Hotel Strathcona.

with milder weather, with heavy showers in some localities.

In the interior, local thunder showers can be expected, says Mr. Denison. The extent of the wet spell can not yet be calculated, but it will undoubtedly have a wide influence in the checking of forest fires, he said.

On the West Coast especially, the change is marked, points out Mr. Denison. One-half an inch of rain fell at Esplanade and points during last night and yesterday. In Vancouver also, rain is reported.

Wind, on the whole, is decreasing, states Mr. Denison. This will be another big factor in the wiping out of the menace to the forests. Temperatures also are generally lower throughout the province.

An excellent programme of entertainment has been prepared for the swimming gala to be held at the Crystal Garden to-morrow at 8 p.m., when the city will be host to the complement of H.M.S. Curlew, British light cruiser now in port.

Water polo, swimming races, fancy diving and "stunts" are on a promising list of entertainment features. Sailors in uniform will be admitted free, covering the local units of the Royal Canadian Navy and all ranks from the visiting cruiser.

On the return of the cruiser in August the main portion of the city's plans in connection with the entertainment of the officers and men of the warship will be carried out. These are expected to include a monster municipal outing in which the jackets will be taken on an inland excursion as far as time and opportunity permits.

The feature of the gala to-morrow will be a water polo game between the men of the cruiser, and the Victoria Amateur Swimming Association. The programme follows:

Fifty yards race for boys (off ship), fifty yards race for men (off ship), plunge for distance (off ship or open as desired), diving for plates (men off ship), 100 yards race (men off ship), fancy diving (open), fifty yards handicap (open), polo match, H.M.S. Curlew vs. V.A.S.C. Dancing 10 o'clock to 11:30 o'clock.

and he finally entered professional competitions and rodeo exhibitions. In this line of work he far outdistanced his closest pursuers. And in 1914 he climaxed an adventurous career by capturing the title of World Champion Cowboy at the celebrated "round-up" in Pendleton, Oregon.

It was but a step from Western shows to the movies and before long the daring youth had made an impression on the hearts of Western movie fans. From short reel subjects he graduated into five reel photoplays, then into features, and now he is a prominent member of that galaxy of stars who appear in Jewel productions.

FINE SERVICE IS BEING GIVEN BY FURNESS COMPANY

Pacific Commerce is Next

Expected July 28

Splendid service is being given between the United Kingdom and Victoria and other Pacific Coast ports by the Furness Company Steamship Line.

King Brothers, local agents, announced this morning that the Pacific Commerce is now en route to Victoria and is due to reach Los Angeles on July 23, two days ahead of her schedule. The Commerce will arrive here about July 28.

On Monday the London Importer, of the Furness Line, arrived here from the United Kingdom, and the Pacific Commerce is due on July 28, just sixteen days later. This is a frequent schedule and gives those people shipping either way fine service to and from the Old Country.

T. A. Lee, of the Furness Line, with headquarters at San Francisco, who arrived here on the London Importer Monday to spend a holiday in Victoria, stated this morning that the Furness Line intended to make Victoria a regular port of call. His line was anxious to establish a good service, and would have no trouble in securing sufficient freight, he said.

Freight offerings between this coast and the United Kingdom were improving, and his company was looking forward to a banner year, he concluded.

King Bros. Secure Agency For Shipping Company; Ss. Dochet
Due This Month

King Brothers, local shipping agents, announced this morning that they have been appointed Victoria agents for the McCormick Steamship Company. This concern operates the Munson-McCormick Steamship Line.

The next vessel of this company due at Victoria is the Ss. Dochet, expected here about July 15 or 19 to load 300,000 feet of lumber consigned to Jamaica.

The lumber being picked up by the Dochet is the shut-out freight from the company's steamer Mumwood, which docked at Victoria recently to load lumber but was forced to leave the cargo here on account of being overloaded.

Methods of U.S. Immigration Are Protested by Women

New York, July 15.—Members of a party of twelve persons who arrived from England on the liner Tusconia announced yesterday they would protest to British authorities that in spite of objections made by women of the party they had been forced to strip to the waist by medical examiners at Ellis Island. They said they had to undergo the examination not only by United States officials, but also by a representative of the immigration service of Canada, to which country they were bound.

Immigration officials said the examinations were just such as those made of all incoming third-class passengers. Statements by members of the party that the women had been examined by a man were acknowledged to be true.

Major Richardson Ties For Big Bisley Prize

Local Marksman Scored 98 Out of Possible 100 in Prince of Wales Prize and Is Tied With Quartermaster King, of the Marines; Will Shoot Off for Prize, Which Is Equivalent to $500 in Cash; Richardson Made a Possible 50 at 300-yard Range; Blair, of Vancouver, in Tie in the First Stage of King's Prize

Bisley Camp, July 15 (Canadian Press Cable).—Scoring an aggregate of 98 points out of 100 Major F. Richardson, of Victoria, tied with Quartermaster King, of the Marines, for high score in the Prince of Wales Prize, one of the feature service rifle matches at Bisley, to-day. Major Richardson will shoot off with Quartermaster King for the prize, which is equivalent to $500 in cash.

Major Richardson made a full possible score of 50 at the 300-yard distance and 48 at the 600-yard range. The Prince of Wales Prize was fired at these two distances, each man firing ten shots, making the full possible for the match 100 points.

Sgt. Borland, of Toronto, shot a 48 at the 300-yard and 48 at 600, aggregating 97. Lieut. Desmond Burke, Ottawa, also scored 49 at the first range, but dropped to 43 at the longer distance.

The Northland service rifle competition was shot concurrently with the Prince of Wales Prize, but was only for those not eligible in the higher event, which is restricted to N.R.A. medalists in the King's Prize, Queen's Prize, or club competitions.

MARTIN SECOND

Capt. Alex Martin, Calgary, finished second in the Elkington Aggregate, the first prize in which is a challenge cup for the competitor whose highest scores in the Duke of Cambridge and Corporation of the City of London matches make up the highest aggregate. Capt. Martin's score in the Duke of Cambridge was 48 and in the Corporation match 48, an aggregate of 97, out of a possible 100. He won $20 in cash.

Bisley Camp, July 15 (Canadian Press Cable).—Checking of the scores of the 919 marksmen competing in the first stage of the King's Prize yesterday, confirmed the report that Q.M.S. Parnell, of Vernon, Quebec, and Major Blair, of Vancouver, each are entitled to shoot off with ten others for the bronze medal, emblematic of the highest score in the first stage. The two Canadians shot 102 out of 105.

Besides Major Blair and Sgt. Parnell, nine other Canadians scored 96 or better to qualify for the second stage. With scores, they are: Major Johnson, Ottawa, 100; Sgt. Emile, Toronto; Sgt. Borland, Toronto; Pte. Regan, Edmonton; Lieut. Steele, Guelph, each 98; Sgt. Fyvie, Victoria, and Sgt. McGregor, Ottawa, each 97.

Sgt. Only the 300 highest scores in the first stage qualify, and 241 yesterday had scores of 96 and better, leaving 49 places for the 67 marksmen with scores of 95.

Bisley Camp, July 15 (Canadian Press Cable).—The Canadian team of twelve marksmen were leading by six points at the halfway mark in the shoot for the Mackinnon Challenge Cup, which they won last year. The first distance was 900 yards, ten shots each man.

Boxing Frenzy Over Titular Battle In New York To-night

Sell-out For Berlenbach-Delaney Bout Will Bring in Half a Million Dollars

Both Principals in Great Shape and Terrific Scrap Is Looked For

New York, July 15.—Three years have passed since New York, where almost all things are common, has known the boxing frenzy it exhibits to-day—for to-night, in Brooklyn, the light heavyweight champion of the world will defend his crown against the man many assert should wear it.

Paul Berlenbach, product of amateur wrestling, is the champion. Jack Delaney, French Canadian, who once flattened Berlenbach in four rounds, is the challenger.

Fifty-fifty thousands are expected to see the encounter, which is scheduled for fifteen rounds and the financial returns will approximate half a million dollars.

The bout is scheduled to start about 8 o'clock, central standard time. The principals completed their training activities yesterday, both taking a long walk to taper down after three weeks of hard work. They weighed to-day at 2 o'clock.

BOTH DOWN TO LIMIT

Reports from the two camps were favorable as to the condition of the gladiators. Delaney is well under the 175-pound limit, while Berlenbach experienced only slight difficulty in settling down. Dan Hickey, the champion's veteran manager, said Paul would likely scale 174½, while Delaney is expected to weigh about 172.

Umbert J. Fugazy, promoter of the match, said to-day he expected a complete sell-out of tickets. The advertisement has been placed in the market, with all indications pointing to a half million dollar gate.

The champion, fighting on a percentage basis, expects to receive $150,000 if the fight is a sell-out. This $150,000 is his earnings over a three-year period to half a million dollars, placing his ring earnings second only to those of Jack Dempsey. The challenger's share of the receipts will amount to about $50,000.

In the ten-round semi-final, Sgt. Jack Adams, Delaney's sparring partner, will meet Arthur Debuska, Italian champion, scheduled to go eight rounds with Jimmy Francis of New Jersey, while in a four-rounder, To-night's engagementman from Omaha, Neb., will face Gordon Muncie, former amateur heavyweight champion.

Forbes To Oppose Parfitt In Mound Battle To-night

Star Twirlers Will Work When Senior Teams Take Field in Crucial Game

Norm Forbes and Ray Parfitt will provide another great mound battle to-night when the Travelers and the Sons of Canada hook up at the Royal Athletic Park for one of their big league struggles for the senior amateur baseball championship. These pitchers opposed each other last Thursday, and the result was one of the finest exhibitions of baseball seen here this season.

The first game to go into extra innings. Allie McGregor and Bob Whyte will umpire, and the game will start at 8:15 o'clock.

To-night's engagement may prove the deciding game of the pennant race. While the Sons enjoy a single game lead over the Travelers now, they will have to fight hard to retain this advantage. There remain only six games for each team to play in the schedule, and every win will mean a lot.

Victory for the Travelers to-night will mean a tie-up in the standing with the Sons and Travelers at the head. On the other hand should the Sons come out on top they will hoist themselves into a two-game lead which will give the Travelers a high mark to shoot at if they hope to top the league at the end of the season.

The results for to-day were:
First race—Two Halfbreds; about five furlongs—1, Slipperly, $11.85, $4.75, $4.15; 2, Grandam Neff, $6.30, $4.80; 3, Firefly, $5.90. Time, 1:03 3-5.

Second race—Three-year-olds and up; about five furlongs—1, Albion Boy, $3.70, $3.25; 2, Crest, $4.70, $3.15; 3, Queen Cup, $7.15. Time, 1:00 1-5.

Third race—Western Canadian Breds; three-year-olds and up; about five furlongs—1, Canon York, $9.90, $4.75, $4.10; 2, Miss Gay, $11.45, $4.80; 3, Ping Pong, $2.65. Time, 1:00.

Fourth race—Three-year-olds and up; six furlongs—1, $12.15, $4.55; 2, St. Angelina, $4.50. Time, 1:25 1-5.

Fifth race—Three-year-olds and up; one mile and one-sixteenth—1, $13.10, $4.75, $4.15; 2, $13.10, $4.75, $4.15; 3, $13.10, $4.75, $4.15. Time, 1:53 2-5.

Sixth race—Three-year-olds and up; one mile and one-sixteenth—1, $13.10, $4.75, $4.15; 2, $13.10, $4.75, $4.15; 3, $13.10, $4.75, $4.15. Time, 1:53 2-5.

Seventh race—Three-year-olds and up; one mile and one-sixteenth—1, $13.10, $4.75, $4.15; 2, $13.10, $4.75, $4.15; 3, $13.10, $4.75, $4.15. Time, 1:53 2-5.

Fails To Be As Effective With Athletics As When Against Them

In baseball certain clubs are easy picking for star pitchers. The Philadelphia Athletics always have been soft for Howard Ehmke.

Against Connie Mack's club Ehmke has always looked like a million dollars. That is why he is now a member of the Athletics.

When the Boston club let it be known that Ehmke was on the market, Mack immediately became one of the strongest bidders. Naturally, his estimate of Ehmke's ability was based on the sensational pitching he always turned in against the A's.

Mack gave three ball players for the star of the Boston staff. Manager Fohl of the Red Sox wanted Outfielder Jacobson of St. Louis, so Mack got him in return for "Bing" Miller and in addition turned over Harry Harris and Haimach.

Now, for a peculiar twist of fate, Mack started Ehmke against Boston in his first game as a member of the Athletics. The Red Sox knocked him out of the box.

Bryan Harris, one of the pitchers obtained from Philadelphia in exchange for Ehmke, has always been very successful against Washington. In an effort to get Harris off on the right foot, Manager Fohl of Boston didn't start him until his club met Washington. He was held on the bench for ten days. Harris rewarded Fohl for his patience and wisdom by winning, 2-1.

Incidentally, Jacobson assisted Harris in winning his first game by performing sensationally in the field. White baseball trades cannot be judged on a ball game or two, early results favor Boston as having got a decided edge in the deal.

AUSTRALIANS WITH Sidney Outwallop 468 FOR SIX WICKETS DECLARE INNINGS

Liverpool, July 15 (Canadian Press Cable).—When they had compiled the tremendous score of 468 runs for six wickets in the first innings of their cricket match with the County of Lancashire, the Australians declared. This is the second day of the game. The tourists batted all yesterday and up to lunch time to-day.

Yankees Finally Find Ninth Inning Punch And Pull Out a Win
Five Runs Behind in Ninth New York Tied up Game and Win Out in Twelfth

New York, July 15.—Late inning failures which have cost the New York Yankees many a game this season may have come to an end.

They went into the ninth against Detroit yesterday, five runs behind and two men out very speedily, the great Ruth striking out. Then the long-sought hit began to appear and when the drive was over the game had been tied at 6-6. The teams toiled for three more innings before Lou Gehrig sent forth a triple which scored Ruth with the winning run.

Only third place Chicago advanced during the day by winning a 10-2 decision over Washington. The other teams in the circuit were rained out.

The New York Giants gained ground in the National League by beating Pittsburgh twice, 12-8 and 5-2. Cincinnati added half a game to its lead through Carl Mays' 5-1 victory over the heavy-hitting Phillies. The Boston Braves scored four times in the opening inning against Chicago and won 6-4.

GOLF, BOWLING—Rennie Surprised By Form Of Long Ryall

Young Vancouver Player, Who Made Big Impression Here Last Week in Canadian Tennis Championships, Takes Toronto Star Into Camp in Mainland Tournament; Bates Had to Step Out to Beat Holmes; Miss H. Leeming and McCallum Eliminate a Good Pair in Miss Tatlow and Nunns

Vancouver, July 15.—Unexpectedly, T. O. Ryall, elongated youth of the Vancouver Laurel Tennis Club, put Leroy Rennie, of Toronto, out of the Mainland tennis championship running here yesterday afternoon. Another surprise came in the mixed doubles, when Mrs. Diamond and Cosgrove slipped over a win at the expense of B. A. Rhodes and Miss Dot Gillespie. Otherwise the third day's play developed nothing out of the ordinary.

Manitoba's representative in the Canadian championships in Victoria last week were put out by Rennie and Nunns, of Toronto, while Miss Hope Leeming and McCallum, of Victoria, put a stop to the cup-winning aspirations of Miss Helen Tatlow of Vancouver, and Nunns, last year's Dominion junior champion. Mrs. Bourque of Edmonton and Rennie of Toronto, received a rude shock when they met Miss Gladman of California and Gunn of Toronto. As dark came on each pair had won a set, the deciding set being scheduled for to-day.

Cordova Bay Will Hold Its Regatta Wednesday, July 28

The annual Cordova Bay regatta will be held on Wednesday afternoon, July 28. All but two of the events will be open this year and some great competition is anticipated.

The committee in charge of the regatta is as follows: President, Dr. C. F. Eagles; vice-president, I. M. Noddy; secretary-treasurer, G. W. Russell; finance, H. Jauna and A. Pandey; prize committee, Mrs. G. W. Russell, G. Hibberd, Mrs. F. Gibbs, E. P. L. Rogers; course and raft committee, George McMorran; advertising and transportation, G. W. Russell; announcer, Joe North.

RYALL'S OVERHEAD GOOD
Though losing the first set to Rennie at 6-4, Ryall started in to drive his opponent to every corner of the court, his base line shots being admirably placed while his overhead work caught Rennie time after time for aces. Rennie never gave up but the younger man had a slight edge in the play and won the set at 7-5. Improving as he went on, Ryall ran out the deciding set at 6-1.

Millie had a hard battle on his hands when he faced Macdonald, of Tacoma. The first set saw-sawed back and forth until the local man won out on the sixteenth game. He also led at 10-9 in the second set on his own delivery but faulty returns gave the American the tying game and the next two. After a short rest the players went on but Macdonald had lost his power, continually netting the ball, Millie winning at 6-2.

McGill made short work of R. Hoogs of Seattle, closing two games in the first and one in the second set.

Freeman's Work Both With Ball and Bat Counts For Naught

Freeman's work both with ball and bat counts for naught. He was beaten by Hudson's Bay in Wednesday Cricket 110-81.

NUNN'S BEAT MACMASTERS
Nunns of Toronto placed his drive with much greater accuracy than McMaster, displaying uncanny ability at times in locating the sidelines for passing shots.

Wally Bates, one of the favorites for the title, apparently underestimated the strength of the 49-year-old veteran Holmes of Winnipeg, netting shot after shot and playing weakly. When the Winnipegger led at 4-2 in the opening set, Bates changed his tactics and took the four games of the set. Holmes kept up his aggressiveness, too, and forced the play, Bates taking the set by the same score as the opener.

Scott of Tacoma accounted for Cosgrove in straight sets and George Sparling beat Gerald Cunningham of Victoria in three hard sets.

Rennie and Nunns had only a slight workout with Baynes and Holmes of Winnipeg, winning in two sets of 6-1. Peers and Proctor won out from Gladman,

EASTERN CANADA'S HOPES ARE VOICED

Halifax, July 15.—In connection with the appointment of Hon. W. A. Black, senior member for Halifax in the late House, as Minister of Railways and Canals in the new Meighen Cabinet, Premier Rhodes of Nova Scotia yesterday issued a statement which read in part as follows:

"Press dispatches from Ottawa indicate some surprise that the portfolio of Railways and Canals should be allotted to the province of Nova Scotia. To one who knows Right Hon. Arthur Meighen as intimately as I do, this announcement need occasion no surprise. The Prime Minister has given a great deal of thought and study to the problems of the Maritime Provinces.

"The announcement of the appointment of a Nova Scotian as Minister of Railways and Canals marks the dawn of a new era for the province—indeed, for the Maritime Provinces as a whole. It holds out a new and certain hope to us."

PATTULLO PLANS DEVELOPMENT OF VANCOUVER BEACH

Experts Investigate Scheme
For Creating Big Resort
Around English Bay

Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, announced to-day that studies were being made now in preparation for the complete development of the foreshore of English Bay, Vancouver, bordering the University Endowment lands, extending from a short distance west of Jericho Air Station out to the tip of Point Grey.

The Minister stated that it was not the intention of the Government to undertake any extensive development just now, but that there were a number of objects to be attained in connection with any future work along that shore. The present studies are for the purpose of correlating these various things.

The Vancouver and Districts Joint Sewerage and Drainage Board, is making investigations of the tidal currents off shore in that vicinity and is having borings made through Kitsilano with a view of determining the final location and ultimate outfall of a large intercepting sewer that may in the future require to be built along this waterfront to a point off shore from the end of Point Grey, Mr. Pattullo said.

"In our own plans for the future development of the University Endowment lands, it is the desire to be prepared for any eventuality of this sort," he explained. "The plans will provide for a very considerably widened marine drive and promenade, and for its protection on the water side as well as for the necessary terracing of the steep banks facing the shore. There will probably be a demand for amusement piers at some time. The problem is one of very considerable magnitude, and will take much time and thought to work it out to advantage, but the whole foreshore question will be dealt with in such a way as to permit the maximum enjoyment possible of the fine stretch of beach along that shore.

"The University lands bordering the banks and facing the bay would, when subdivided, conform with this plan."

The Minister expressed his belief that in the not very distant future this southerly shore of English Bay would be a playground of incalculable value to the whole lower Mainland.

BETTER HEALTH NOW PREVAILS IN SAANICH SCHOOLS

Uncorrected Defects in Children Show Great Decrease,
Medical Officer Reports

Dr. R. L. Miller, schools medical officer in Saanich, last night at Royal Oak presented his annual report for 1925 to the School Board, the trustees commenting with satisfaction on the excellent showing attained in the past year.

"A comparison with last year's report shows that whereas in the year ending June 30, 1925, we had 1,713 pupils with 796 uncorrected defects; this year we had 2,695 pupils with 541 defects. This in spite of the fact that there are 189 more defects due to teeth this year than last," Dr. Miller stated.

Eliminating dental defects, Dr. Miller placed uncorrected defects in the following comparative table:

Year ending	Pupils	Defects	P.C.
June 30, 1925	1,713	796	32%
June 30, 1926	2,695	541	7

"Much credit is due to the schools nurse, Miss K. McRae, for this excellent state of affairs. Her tact has won the confidence of the parents and they have taken their children to their physician for treatment," Dr. Miller declared.

Uncorrected visual defects have decreased in the year from 53 to 30; hearing from 51 to 18, breathing 22 to 26, gutters 56 to 19. Tonsils show an increase from 32 to 47, but this change was termed by Dr. Miller of very little significance.

MANY NEW PUPILS
Two inspections of all the schools in Saanich were made during the year, and Dr. Miller reported excellent co-operation from teachers and parents. The condition of buildings, grounds and sanitary arrangements was stated to be good, but Dr. Miller noted a tendency towards overcrowding of primary classes at old Tolmie school, and remarked on the comparatively poor ventilation in these rooms.

SAFER IN SCHOOL
Remarking on the closing of Cloverdale school during prevalence of scarlet fever in that district, Dr. Miller stated: "I advised against closing the school, being satisfied that the children were safer in the school than playing on the street or in the homes of their friend."

In conclusion allow me to state that the full time service of one nurse, responsible to the board, as recommended in my last report, has proven to be an unqualified success. Adequate service is being rendered, satisfaction is being given, and control has been unified and placed where it belongs," Dr. Miller stated.

RABIES TREATMENTS GIVEN IN MONTREAL

Montreal, July 15.—One hundred and forty-seven cases have been treated in the rabies clinic at the Royal Victoria Hospital here since the outbreak of the rabies epidemic. Some of the cases were serious, patients having large lacerated wounds, while in some instances they had been bitten through muscles.

Inquiry at the clinic showed a serious state of affairs regarding the rabies situation and a warning was issued to the public in regard to the folly of treating the pet as a scare.

THE FIRST DOLLAR YET TO BE LOST ON B.C. PUBLIC BONDS

Canadian Credit Men Learn of This Province's Standing
From Premier

Vancouver, July 15.—Asserting that the credit of British Columbia was in good shape, Premier John Oliver, addressing the national convention of the Canadian Credit Men's Association Wednesday evening at the Hotel Vancouver, gave an exhaustive survey of the Province's natural resources.

More than 350 credit executives, representing firms in all parts of Canada, and their wives heard the Premier. The dinner was followed by a dance.

Stating that the first requisite of a borrower was honesty, secondly business ability and third sufficiency of resources, the Premier said: "I am going to content myself by saying that neither the Province nor any of its municipalities has repudiated any of their financial obligations, nor have their bondholders, as far as I have been advised, suffered loss of a single dollar."

B.C.'S PRODUCTION
The timber wealth of the Province ranked first among the natural resources, said the speaker. He estimated that the timber of British Columbia aggregated 344 billion feet, with an present annual cut of two billions 600,000 feet, or less than one per cent. The manufactured value of this timber, annually was $92,000,000. It is estimated, he stated, that the annual growth equals the cut and natural reforestation retains obtains to a remarkable degree.

Production of paper in B.C., the Premier said, increased from 50,000 tons in 1915 to 150,000 tons in 1925. The paper mills, he continued, had enough timber to supply the mills for many years to come, and there was ample opportunity for other mills to become established when prices and demand warranted the investment.

The speaker pointed out that the annual production of agriculture was valued at $45,000,000. This was a permanent industry, capable of immense expansion and with proper methods should last indefinitely. As an illustration of the increase in agriculture production in B.C., the Premier pointed out the fact that production of tree fruits had increased from 32,000,000 lbs. in 1915 to 127,000,000 in 1925.

"British Columbia has an area of 393,000 square miles and her population does not average two to the square mile," Premier Oliver continued. "Farming lands occupied are estimated at less than 3,000,000 acres, and lands under cultivation are estimated at less than 600,000 acres, while the agriculture lands available for use are estimated at 23,000,000 acres."

Value of mineral production was another indication of the Province's great wealth, stated the speaker. During 1925 mineral production had been valued at $61,000,000 as against $41,000,000 in 1925.

"Notwithstanding the competition of fuel oil, we must still consider a plentiful supply of coal one of our most valuable assets," he stated. Premier Oliver said it is not only the quantity and quality which gives it value as a national asset, but its availability value gives it value as a national asset. Available quantities in British Columbia are estimated at seventy-four billion metric tons.

The speaker outlined the fishing industry of British Columbia, pointing out that in 1925 the total fish production of Canada had only been $41,000,000. Fifty per cent. of which was produced in British Columbia. There was $7,000,000 capital invested and more than 17,000 people employed.

He spoke of the new branch of the industry being developed for the taking of pilchards and converting them into oils and other merchantable products, including fertilizers. More than $2,000,000 was being invested in plants and equipment in this branch.

Quoting from The Province of July 18, the Premier showed manufacturing in British Columbia was greater than the three provinces of Alberta, Manitoba and Saskatchewan. There were 1,145 manufacturing establishments in the Province.

Referring to water power, Premier Oliver said: "The snow-capped mountains of British Columbia will, apparently act as condensers for all time to come, ensuring a plentiful precipitation and a never-failing source of supply. It is estimated that there are available for economic development three and one-half millions of horse-power, of which only some 418,000 horse-power is yet developed. Much of this water power is located near navigable waters and adjacent to existing or contemplated lines of transportation and will be readily available when increase of population makes its use profitable."

The speaker also made considerable reference to the scenic beauty of the Province and its value as a sportsman's paradise.

Cook's got it now!
For years she seemed to take a positive delight in being grumpy and short-tempered. Not only were her nerves in a bad way, but her health as well; and her work was suffering in consequence. Then, being a good cook who took a pride in her work, she made up her mind that this state of things must not go on.

She decided to adopt the Kruschen habit of health—the habit of the "little daily dimel." Now the most tiring day can't upset her; she does her work more thoroughly and more cheerfully than ever before, because Kruschen has shown her how.

What Bridget suffered from was working indoors all day—stooping over fires and ovens. But since she started taking her "little daily dimel" of Kruschen, there's been another story to tell.

Try the "little daily dimel" yourself and you will find, as she did, that it will gently but effectively free your body of all the clogging waste that has been producing fatigue, depression, nerves, rheumatism and the like; that your blood will be refreshed and purified; that in a very short time you will be tingling with health, energy and cheeriness in every fibre of your being.

That's the famous Kruschen feeling—and you can only get it out of a bottle of Kruschen Salts. Buy a 75c bottle at your druggist to-day, and start enjoying life to-morrow.

THESE WOMEN

By MALCOLM DUART

(Copyrighted)

The names and situations in this story are fictitious.

Morton laughed, and after a moment the girl joined him.

"Not to-night," she said. "This was—was so sudden!"

Farrish went away, his head bowed. Throwing his hat into the machine, he went to the front of the car to crank it. It suddenly responded with a "phut, phut—phut, phut, phut." He climbed in and with an explosion of steam from the motor, he drove away.

Morton turned to Audrey.

"I've seen that proposal coming," he said, "but I certainly didn't think he'd do it that way."

Audrey giggled. "Isn't he funny?"

She thought a moment and laughed again. "One time, four or five days ago, he was watching me rehearse with the chorus, there in Seattle. One of the girls walked over and sat down on his knee! You ought to have seen his face! It got as red as a boiled beet, and he stood right up and dumped her on the floor, and went outside and waited all the rest of the time I was there!"

"He's a good boy," Morton said.

"However, I'd like to have you drop the chorus girl," he joined in Audrey's laugh.

Their conversation wandered away from the departed pariah.

They talked of the women who had called that afternoon, and of what they had said to Audrey. The girl was troubled and Morton himself was puzzled as to the way in which they should meet the situation.

"This foolishness with the—down here," Morton said, "but in the mean-while, you are going to be unhappy. Personally I don't care, but there's no use in your being annoyed all the time. Do you want to go back to Seattle and proceed with your theatrical scheme?"

Audrey considered. At last, with a shake of her head, she said: "Not right now. I'm still too mad at right now. And I'm afraid that will make Nona—and I'm afraid that will make you and me quarrel again!" She shot a quick glance at him. "I never want to quarrel with you!"

He patted her hand.

"I think that show will succeed without you, Audrey," he said. "I'll wire Abe Sunshine, and Nona, in the morning."

"And I know what we'll do."

CHAPTER XXXVI

Audrey looked at him inquiringly.

"It's been two years since you left boarding school," Morton said. "Don't you miss your old friends there?"

The girl waited for him to go on.

"Suppose," he resumed, "you have a couple of the girls come here to visit, and play around?"

Audrey clasped her hands behind her head, and smiling over the idea.

"Daddy," she said finally, "I'm ages older than those girls, now. I wouldn't know what to say to them."

"But you're exactly the same age as they are," he objected.

She sighed. "In years, yes. But in experience—"

She cast a quick, suspicious glance at him. "Don't laugh at me, daddy! I have had experience, and it has aged me!"

"I'm not laughing," he said, his countenance sober.

She examined his face, doubtfully.

"Well, you looked like it. I prefer the company of those chorus girls in Seattle. At least, they understand life, and the girls from school are only babies, still."

Morton left his chair and moved to the porch rail, leaning against it so that he faced her.

"Audrey," he said, "your standards are all upset. You've been running emotionally wild, these last two months, and you're a social wart. Do you know it?"

"What do you mean?"

Morton drew up his knee, and clasped his hands around it.

"You used to belong to a certain crowd—a group that thought very much as you did. Nice girls, with nice families, all right ways. You had no men friends aside from me. Now, with this idea of yours that you were in love with me—"

"I am in love with you," she interrupted.

"All right. With this idea that you are in love with me, you've tried running away from home, associating with stage girls to learn how they look at life, turning your thoughts into a different channel, and presto! You don't belong to your old crowd at all. You're not interested in them. And yet you're not a chorus girl, or an actress, or really a dancer. What are you, then?"

The girl pondered a long while.

"I suppose I'm a girl who wants her mate, and hasn't got him," she said at last.

Morton gave a short, reminiscent laugh, and she looked at him in surprise.

He hurriedly explained. "I wasn't laughing at you. But I saw another case of an upset soul to-day."

He told her, with droll commentaries, of his adventure with Mr. and Mrs. Carver, and of the lady's insistence that her husband should institute divorce proceedings. Audrey listened gravely.

"At your age, and at about forty, women do wild and peculiar things," he ended.

"That isn't it," she contradicted him calmly. "She really was attracted to you, and wanted to catch your attention," she told him. "I know the feeling. If women can't get the notice of the man they like by smiling at him, they're apt to do crazy things, so he'll look at them. If she thought she could get your attention by standing on her head, she'd have done that!"

"Perhaps," he said. "Perhaps."

"I'm sure of it," she told him. "You are a wonderfully fascinating man, you know."

"What's the reason?" he asked.

"Because you're indifferent," she said, promptly.

"Five women crazy with curiosity, after you're once cast that cool, distant eye of yours on them."

He laughed. "That must be so, then. It was Nona, I think, who told me that before."

She got up and came to him.

"Daddy, are you going to marry me?" She stretched her arms out straight, with her hands upon his shoulders.

He shook his head slowly. "Audrey, dear, I wish you never would ask me that again. It hurts me. I can't marry you."

She stood, motionless, still holding to his shoulders.

"Did you love my mother?" she pursued, softly.

"Yes," he dropped his head.

She leaned against his knee, which he still held clasped in his hands.

"You said I was like my mother," she said. "If you couldn't marry her, wouldn't I do it only as a substitute?"

He shook his head, slowly.

"Then it makes no difference what I do," she said, bitterly. "I'm no good to anyone."

She ran into the house, and the door slammed behind her.

Audrey had regained her spirits the next morning, when she descended to breakfast. In a new pink and white dress, she floated around breakfast room, and turned around so her guardian could admire her outfit.

"But why the war paint?" he inquired, after he had paid tribute to the dress.

She had employed a lipstick and rouge again, and her lashes were darkened.

"They're symbols," she explained.

"Which?"

"Symbols," she repeated. "They're symbols of a great resolution."

"Are you going out to be a wild woman and vamp men and crush them?" he inquired, dipping into his grapefruit.

She danced to her chair, and flattered her napkin.

"No, I've decided on my proper place in society. Those old cats who came to see me about you have disgusted me with this crowd. And I like girls like Nona and the chorus girls, because they're real. I'm going to associate with them, hereafter."

"But," he objected, "I thought you were angry at Nona."

"That was just a spat," Audrey said, placidly. "In our circle—Nona's and mine and the chorus girls—we can fight one day and make up the next. We only fight over men."

Morton was amused.

"What do the society women fight over?" he wanted to know.

"I suppose," said Audrey, "that it is over men, too, only they get at it indirectly. They talk about precedence, and who invites who, and what she said about what. But I guess that in the background they're thinking about the man question, all the same."

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily's Popcorn Balls

Copyright 1926 by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate

By HOWARD R. GARIS

There was a crackling sound out in the kitchen of the hollow stump bungalow one morning, and as Mrs. Longears and Nurse Jane Puzzy Wuzzy went down stairs, the muskrat lady housekeeper said to the rabbit lady:

"Uncle Wiggily must be up early beating the rugs."

"Do you think that is Uncle Wiggily?" asked Mrs. Longears.

"Who else would it be?" inquired Nurse Jane. "I heard him go down soon after the sun rose."

"But nobody told him to beat any rugs," went on the rabbit lady.

Man's wife. "What can he be doing?"

That strange crackling sound still echoed out in the kitchen, and when Nurse Jane was about to open the door Mrs. Longears caught the muskrat lady's paw and whispered:

"Don't! Better not!"

"Why?" asked Nurse Jane.

"Because it might be the Bob Cat!"

"If Bob Cat him if he's there," squealed the muskrat lady, who was very brave, and when the door was opened there was only Uncle Wiggily popping something in the stove.

What in the world are you doing?" cried his wife.

"Popping corn to make popcorn balls to give to the boys and girls at my duck pond ocean seashore beach party!" answered Mr. Longears.

"Oh, yes!" laughed Uncle Wiggily with a jolly little twinkle of his pinkie nose. "Always on Thursday, when it's a hot day, I make popcorn balls and give them to the children on the beach."

The rabbit gentleman, as you know, had made the duck pond into an ocean by sprinkling salt in it. A mud turtle gentleman bobbed up and down to make waves.

Soon the white kernels of corn were popped and Uncle Wiggily kindly let Nurse Jane pour melted sugar over them in a big pan, and he also, more kindly still, allowed the muskrat lady to squeeze the sticky, sugared popcorn into balls.

"It makes me so messy to do that part," Uncle Wiggily explained. "I don't mind popping the corn, but I don't care about making the balls."

"You're at it early enough," spoke his wife, "beginning before breakfast."

"Oh, the beach party starts early and lasts all day," answered Mr. Longears. "I told the children I'd have plenty of popcorn balls for them, and he did—round, sweet, sugary ones, colored red, pink, white and yellow."

"Hurray! Hurray!" cried the animal boys and girls as they gathered around Uncle Wiggily and his basket of good things. "Oh, how we love Uncle Wiggily!"

"And I love you!" shouted the bunny gentleman, for he was quite excited about the treat he was getting to his shoulders.

He dropped his head.

She leaned against his knee, which he still held clasped in his hands.

"You said I was like my mother," she said. "If you couldn't marry her, wouldn't I do it only as a substitute?"

BOARD MEMBER COMPLAINS OF STAR CHAMBER

Camera Discussions at School Board Meetings Calls Forth Protest

Minutes of Public Bodies Should be Open to Rate-payers, Says Trustee

The City School Board was rapped sharply over its official knuckles last night by one of its senior members, Trustee J. L. Beckwith, chairman of the finance committee.

Trustee Beckwith said he could not hold with the star chamber methods which he intimated were employed by the board in the consideration of public business. The point arose after the reading of the minutes, a painful operation which takes the first half hour of every regular board session. Last night W. F. C. Pope, the secretary of the board, accomplished the task of detailing five separate meetings of the board in twenty minutes.

Mr. Beckwith protested that the minutes of two meetings of the board had been left unread. These were meetings at which he was unavoidably absent, and in which he was particularly interested to know what had taken place.

After a discussion in which the relative merits of doing public business in private and the alternative course of open meetings were discussed, the omitted passages were read to the satisfaction of the chairman of the finance committee.

On the usual vote of adoption of the minutes Mr. Beckwith was recorded in the negative. The minutes were not a true statement of what had taken place, he said, and asked that the full report of Municipal Inspector George H. Deane in reference to High School changes be laid at the disposal of the board members.

Subsequent discussion disclosed the fact that one member of the board had not been entirely in accord with the action of the majority members in regard to the High School reorganization, and had asked twice to be recorded in the negative. It was shown to the member who had voted negatively that his choice had been so recorded.

Continuing to press for a copy of the report of the municipal inspector, Trustee Beckwith was informed that the report had been an oral one in which Mr. Deane had spoken from notes, but that no written copy of the notations had been made. He would write the report now if that was the wish of the board, Mr. Deane offered.

All reports of like importance should be filed with the board for spreading on the minutes, retorted Mr. Beckwith. Was it not a fact, he queried, that the minutes of the board were open to any ratepayer of the city who wished to see them?

Only on an assenting resolution of the board was that true, he was informed.

All reports and all the business of the board should be open to the public, countered Mr. Beckwith, and again asked to be given a copy of the Deane report for perusal. Discussion lapsing, the board returned to its agenda, and at the conclusion of regular business went into closed session to consider matters in relation to Victoria High School.

Easy to Gain With Yeast and Iron

New Combination of Yeast with Vegetable Iron Quick Way to Build Up Weight

This new combination of yeast vitamins with vegetable iron renews the action of sluggish blood cells, drives out dangerous body poisons, increases energy and endurance and supplies the system with the vitamins that build up weight.

For years yeast has been known as a rich vitamin food, but not until we perfected "Ironized Yeast"—which comes in concentrated tablet form, was it possible to take yeast and iron in the right proportions to build up weight.

Vegetable "Iron" when combined with yeast is quite easy to digest, therefore better for the system. And "yeast" when ironized, becomes just twice as beneficial as ordinary fresh or cake yeast.

Ironized Yeast tablets are composed of concentrated food elements, therefore, they are pleasant to take and free from drug-like effects. If you are under weight, do not enjoy good health, lacking in energy and force, "ironized yeast" tablets will pick you right up, and if they fail, you get your money back.

Sold by druggists at $1.00 for a large 48-tablet package or sent direct from laboratory on receipt of price. Ironized Yeast Co., Fort Erie, Ontario, Canada. (Advt.)

INSPECTOR TELLS SAANICH TRUSTEES COMMENT IS PRAISE

"Fairly Satisfactory" Report on Young Teachers Means Good Work

Reading Children Never Become Poolroom and Street Corner Habitués

"Fairly satisfactory," as a comment by Provincial schools inspectors, when reporting on the work of school teachers, has a commendatory character when applied to the work of young teachers. Schools Inspector A. C. Stewart last night informed the Saanich School Board, Mr. Stewart attended last night's session of the board at Royal Oak at the request of the trustees, who had held up certain annual salaries in teachers' salaries, because of inability to interpret the term "fairly satisfactory," applied to their work by Mr. Stewart in his reports on the individuals concerned.

A number of cases were dealt with, where differing conditions had been factors in first or second year teachers being given a "fairly satisfactory" rating, and the board granted all scheduled increases following the discussions with the inspectors.

VALUE OF READING
Mr. Stewart congratulated the board on having provided interesting reading for the pupils and realized that he had told teachers found that they had to read a great deal of material, "this is your own fault, you have failed to ask for them."

Chairman Hobbs remarked that the teachers had recently taken these admissions to heart, judging by the recent demands for supply.

Mr. Stewart noted that "boys who early acquire a taste for reading never in after years become habitués of poolrooms and other resorts in search of entertainment. Girls reading in the school, he said, do not become addicted to seeking excitement on street corners at night time."

STEADY BETTERMENT
"Saanich has been gradually improving in school conditions in the course of the past four years," declared the inspector. A much better feeling has been developed among the teachers, and a greater accord between the staff and the Board of Trustees is also to be noted, Mr. Stewart said, his comment greatly pleasing the trustees.

YOUNGEST PRINCIPAL ASSUMES CHARGE OF HIGH SCHOOL WORK

Ira Dilworth, New Principal at Victoria High School, Welcomed by Trustees

Ira Dilworth, youngest principal to assume command of Victoria High School since the days of its inception, entered on his first official act last night when he met the City School Board and assisted in their deliberations in regard to reorganization at that institution. Dilworth thanked the board for its confidence and assured trustees of steadfast endeavor to prove worthy of the honor conferred upon him. He expressed the hope that in matters of a controversial nature the board would let him work out his own solution, and would prove ready to afford co-operation, to the best interests of the school.

The High School is my school in more ways than one, and I feel very keenly my appointment to the principalship," said Mr. Dilworth in conclusion. "I do not want to leave the impression that I would rush in where angels fear to tread, nor that I am to become a new broom that is to sweep clean. On the contrary I want to enter a new field, with a feeling that I have the confidence and fullest co-operation of the board."

The board will be very pleased to take up with you matters of High School reorganization," replied Chairman George A. Jay, and will, I know, be grateful for any ideas you may have to offer."

The board then went into camera to conclude its deliberations on the reorganization plans. These include the appointment of a vice-principal, a dean of girl students, and heads of the various scholastic departments.

WAGE INVESTIGATION

London, July 15.—Daily Mail says there has been discussion in ministerial circles of the desirability of sending a commission to the United States to study the methods whereby high wages are earned there. The mission would be similar in character to that recently sent by The London Daily Mail. The paper says no decision has been made, but it is understood that a commission probably will be sent in the fall. (Advt.)

SCHOOL TRUSTEES AT HALFWAY MARK IN YEAR'S BUDGET

Sum of $279,812 Reported as Cost of Education in City to Date This Year

In the report of the finance committee laid before the City School Board last night, it was shown that the board was at the halfway mark of its annual budget of expenditures. The estimated net expenditure for the year was given as $440,000, and current expenditures reported to date as $279,812. This leaves a balance of $269,237 for the remainder of the year, from all sources.

In its report the finance committee showed that progress on the High School cafeteria plan is being made, and that the sum of $119,739 has been expended on the project to date. At the reopening of the school students will be able to get excellent meals served by an expert dietitian, according to the plans now under way. The innovation is expected to result in a greatly increased attendance at the cafeteria, which in other centres has shown a small surplus after its first year of operation.

The board decided to call for tenders for the annual supply of coal and wood required for the year 1926-27. The next meeting of the group will take place on the fourth Wednesday in August.

PARENT-TEACHERS HELP

In the report of the buildings and grounds committee the major item ratified by the trustees was a decision to proceed at once with the renovation of the James Douglas playgrounds under the direction of F. M. Preston, city engineer. The work will be done in two portions, the first to cost $800, and the second at $540, to follow if the first contract is completed within the estimate given. To the aid of its regular funds and special grants the board will have $400 donated by the Parent-Teacher Association of that school, and $200 from a Provincial Government grant.

A tender for repairs to the roof of the manual training building at Boys' Central School was awarded to D. B. Plunkett in the sum of $200. Trustee Beckwith expressed surprise that the work could not be done by the board itself, sufficiently to repair two leaks reported in the roof. The contract was awarded on a five to one vote, Trustee Beckwith opposing the expenditure.

Incidental tenders for painting and kalsomining at George Jay School
